Venice, Aug. 23. On the 21ſt arrived a Felucca, ſent by the Proveditore General Emo from Dalmatia, with two Colours taken from the Enemy, and the following Relation. On the 2d of this Month the Turks inveſted Sirgh, and on the 3d attacked the Suburbs. The Inhabitants, ſupported by a Detachment of Grenadiers, and other Foot of the Garriſon, ſtood two Aſſaults with great Bravery: But the ſaid Suburbs having no Fortifications for its Defence, they were obliged to give way at laſt, and let the Beſiegers take Poſſeſſion of it, as alſo of ſome advanced Works of the Place. Then the Turks raiſed a Battery of five Cannon and two Mortars, with which they played on the Wall of the Town; and having made a ſufficient Breach on the 14th, they gave an Aſſault, which held till the next Day in the Evening. The Beſieged defended themſelves ſo reſolutely, that they forced the Infidels to retire, and to raiſe the Siege: Their Retreat being obſerved to be very diſ[illegible] ly, the Inhabitants with the Garriſon [illegible] neral Spaar ſallied out, and being joined by [illegible] Country-Militia, (the Prie[illegible]nd Monks taking Arms among them on this Occaſion) purſued them cloſe, killed a great Number, took their Cannon and Baggage, and made them repaſs the Cettina with Precipitation to ſecure the Remains of their Army in the Mountains on the other ſide of that River. The Senate has appointed Sig. Sebaſtian Mocenigo and Bortolo Erizzo to be extraordinary Proveditores in Dalmatia. We have Advice of the Arrival of the Bailo Memo at Modon.

Ratisbon, September 5. On the 2d Inſtant the Concluſion for diſcharging the Inhabitants of Spire from what they owe to the Imperial Chamber, was finally adjuſted; with an expreſs Clauſe, that this Favour which has been granted in Conſideration of what that Town had ſuffered, ſhould not be drawn into a Precedent; and that they ſhould be regular in their Payments for the future, in Default whereof the Dyet reſerve to themſelves a Power of calling in the Arrears which are now remitted. Advices from Vienna tell us, that tho' Count Konigſeck was publickly declared Ambaſſador from his Imperial Majeſty to the Court of France, yet he is not to go thither till the Peace of Baden ſhall have been fully executed in every Point; for which End a Conference had been held with the Count du Luc Ambaſſador of France, but he only took upon him to make Report of what paſſed to his Court, without explaining himſelf on any Particular.

Hambourg, September 10. In the late ſtormy Weather, the Danes loſt ſome ſmall Veſſels and Boats; but they have taken a Swediſh Ship having on Board 7200 Weight of Powder, 4000 Muſquets, 1000 Pair of Piſtols, and a great Number of Swords: Letters from the Confederate Army, of the 7th Inſtant, give an Account likewiſe, that the Saxons had made a Booty under the very Ramparts of Stralſund, conſiſting of a great Number of black Cattle and Horſes, which without any Loſs they brought off ſafe to the Pruſſian Camp, tho' they were expoſed to the Shot of more than 20 Cannon. The Confederates are ſaid to have good Information, that there are 4 Places on the Iſland of Rugen, proper for attempting a Deſcent, viz. at Spic, Feidbuſch, Wittau, and from the ſide of Greiffswalde: 20000 Men are appointed for that Deſcent; a leſs Number was ordered at firſt, but the Kings of Denmark and Pruſſia being informed that his Swediſh Majeſty has drawn all his Forces together on that Iſland, they have judged it neceſſary to augment their Troops detached for that Enterprize; for which a Day is not yet fixed, the Pruſſian heavy Artillery being firſt expected from Stetin, and ſome Tranſports from Copenhagen. Commiſſioners are named for ſettling a Cartel between the Pruſſians and Swedes. Letters from Copenhagen of the 7th of this Month relate, that on the 5th at Night a Man of War of 50 Guns, detached from the Muſcovite Fleet arrived there; which had renewed the Diſcourſe that the ſaid Fleet is ordered to join the Danes, and that there is on Board a certain Number of the Czar's Land-Forces.

St. James's, September 6. This Day Count Gyllembourg, Miniſter from the King of Sweden, had a private Audience of His Majeſty to deliver his Credential Letter dated at Stralſund,
